

First Studio Gallery Call for Art A Show of Peace

If art can be an act of resistance, it can also be a path to peace. A Show of Peace invites artists to create work that envisions the positive changes they long to see in the world. We seek artwork that reflects what brings you inner peace—and how that peace radiates outward into community, society, and nature.

This exhibition will celebrate harmony, balance, and renewal through diverse artistic expressions. This includes themes inspired by sacred geometry and the natural world, reminding us of the universal patterns that connect all living things.

Artists are encouraged to submit works in all media and styles that embody peace, compassion, and hope. Together, these voices will create a contemplative space where art becomes an invitation to imagine a more harmonious future.

This is a national call for art.

All mediums, styles and sizes will be considered. All artwork, even if sold, must remain for the duration of the show, unless an exception is granted by the curator/s. Artwork will be chosen for the quality of work, diversity of style, use of material and expression.

Artwork outside of Arizona will be exhibited digitally in the gallery and on social media. However, if you live outside of Arizona and want to ship your artwork for inclusion in the in-person exhibition you may do so by making prior arrangements with FSG. All shipping fees and expenses are the responsibility of the artist. FSG will return artwork in the same packaging in which it was sent. Return shipping must be pre-paid by the artist.
